

INTEGRATIVE MEDICINE

Combining the best of ancient healing traditions, and complementary therapies with conventional medicine for wellness and healing

AMY GREESON, R.Ph.

Registered Pharmacist, Nationally Certified in Herbal Medicine
Founder and President of Healing Seekers

www.healingseekers.com

Recipient of many awards, Amy draws on her experience in ancient cultures of the Amazon, Peru, Ecuador, Madagascar and other remote areas of the world, to provide professionals a fundamental understanding of the value of integrating herbs and ancient healing practices into our western medical model.

Date: Saturday, May 16, '09, 1:00-4:30p.m.

Location: Beaver Creek Reserve, Wise Nature Center

Program For: Medical Professionals and General Public

Pre-registration: $25 - check payable to Lee Hilfiker, deadline May 9, 2009

Send to Lee Hilfiker, 3922 Harless Rd, Eau Claire, WI 54701

Late registration at the door $30

Questions: email- lee@sacredway.net Website: www.sacredway.net

Phone -Lee Hilfiker 715-834-8337

Presentation and Discussion

- * Origins of medicines
- * Ancient medical traditions
- * Contemporary medicine and the healing traditions of indigenous cultures
- * The role of the professional in creating change
- * Indigenous plants as medicines and their uses today
- * Documentaries of indigenous treatments and plant specimens

About the Presenter: Amy's passion is in exploring the most remote, biodiverse regions of the world. She leads a team of Healing Seekers, a multimedia project that explores remote regions of the world in search of medicines and healing traditions of indigenous cultures that can hold the keys to modern-day treatments and cures.

